The Grade 6-12 Junior Players program in Holden celebrates its eighth year with a Showcase performance scheduled to take place on April 20 and 21 at the Holden Paragon Theatre.

Showcase is a two-part night of entertainment. The first half is improv games and theatre sports, and then after the intermission there's a play. This year it's The Murderless Mystery Dinner Theatre. Two high-schoolers devise a plan to pay for tickets to see their favorite rappers by hosting a murder mystery costume party. Their quirky friends and an eccentric teacher help them out, but through some strange coincidences and a magical genie they become the rappers themselves.

The program is run by volunteer instructor Roger Harrison, who has worked in the music, film and television industry and also directs civilians in the battlespace for military training exercises. He also writes, directs, and produces the plays every year. Students have come from as far away as Wainwright and Chipman for this special and unique program, held at Holden's Paragon Theatre.

The sets are built and the painting party is done, and the cast is into the home stretch of extra rehearsals. Come and see the show! Tickets are a modest $5, and buffet dinner is available for $15 (reservations required). Call Roger at 780-240-6440 or email info@beaverhillplayers.com.

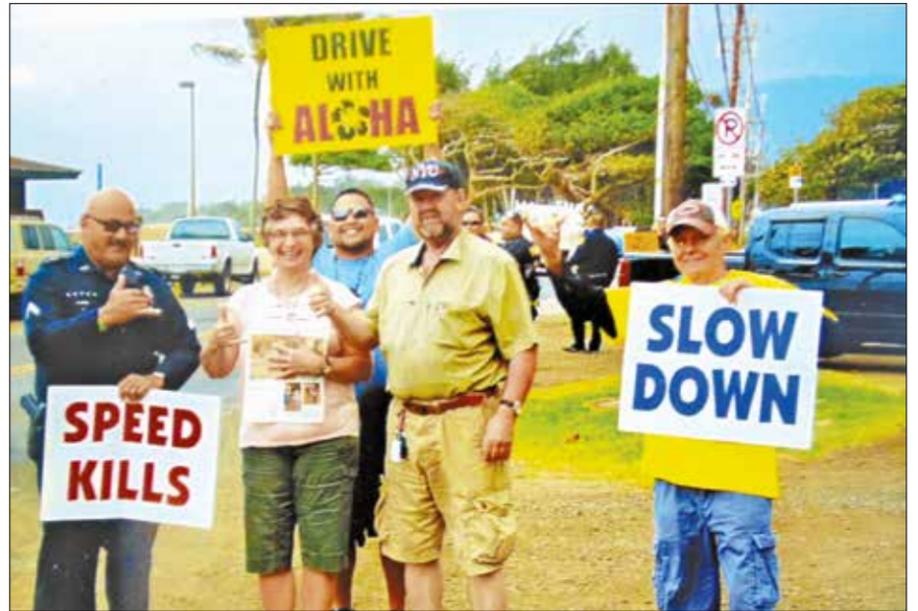

Hiway 16 News Travels To Asia

The Hiway 16 News office received a photo from one of our readers, Darren Walker, who travelled to Thailand, Bangkok and Korea over the past few months and took along a copy of the Hiway 16 News with his to share with readers overseas. Walker is pictured here in front of a store in Korea with our 2017 Remembrance Day issue. Thanks so much for sending us the photo Darren and we hope you had a memorable trip.

Hiway 16 News Hits The Hawaiian Surf

Our newspaper featured the Vegreville Gun and Accessory show a few weeks back and published a photo of David and Evelyn Ewaniw of Vegreville, with their gun collection. Their travelled to Honolulu, O'ahu, Hawaii and took our paper with them on vacation. They are pictured here with a friendly Hawaiian police officer who was offering safety instructions to passing motorists. Thanks for taking our paper with you on vacation. Do you have a similar photo? We would love to see it. Email it to info@hiway16news.ca or drop it off at our news office at 4904 52 street, Innisfree.
